Jack Rushton Honored at Party

A highly esteemed Coleman resident, Jack Rushton, 83 years, was honored at a party in the Coleman Elks hall, Saturday, March 18th, when 206 guests attended the "Jack Rushton Night", sponsored by the Coleman Elks Lodge.

Following invocation, given by Peter Walker, minister of St. Paul's United Church, Joe Wavrean, master of ceremonies, introduced the head table guests, after which Exalted Ruler of the Elks, Mel Cornett, read the guest book and asked each person to stand and be recognized.

Exalted Ruler Cornett called on Mr. Rushton and presented him with an engraved plaque for his 42 years of membership in the Coleman Lodge. He indicated that Mr. Rushton has been a very active community worker since his arrival in Coleman in 1911.

Being a charter member of the Lodge, Mr. Rushton held the office of secretary for 27 years, treasurer for 10 years and was Exalted Ruler for one and a half years in 1929. Mr. Cornett then presented the honored guest with a purse of money on behalf of the Lodge and the assembled friends.

Mr. Rushton gave a resume of the Lodge's many years of function in Coleman, and after expressing his thanks to the Lodge presented Exalted Ruler Cornett with a trophy for the Lodge to provide for any function they see fit.

District Deputy Grand Exalted Ruler Cecil Cover was introduced and called on Bert Bond, who was also presented with an engraved charter membership plaque.

Patrol team Captain S. Lozza presented Bill Jenkins with his charter membership plaque. Both members ably responded.

Mr. Lozza then announced that congratulations were also in order for Elks member Sam Sagoff, who was marking his 83rd birthday, and to Joe Joseph and his wife who were celebrating their wedding anniversary.

Mr. Lozza also called on member William "Bill" Gate, who was presented with a life membership in the Lodge.

After thanks was expressed to the O.O.R.P. for the fine banquet an evening of dancing concluded the event.

Out of town guests present were: Mr. and Mrs. J. Rushton, Trail, B.C.; Mr. Geo. Rushton, Mr. Don. Rushton, Mr. and Mrs. H. Simmons and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Eccleston all of Edmonton; Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Nelson, Miss Phyllis Nelson and Miss Darlene Lomas all of Brooks; Mr. and Mrs. M. Killoran, Claresholm and Mr. and Mrs. F. Vincent, Pincher Creek.

Telegrams were received from the following: Mr. and Mrs. W. Jones, Blackpool, England; Mr. and Mrs. N. H. Pitchford and Mr. and Mrs. F. Lake both of California, U. S. A. and Brooks Lodge, B. P. O. Elks, No. 77.

Winter Camp For Coleman Junior Forest Wardens

The Junior Forest Wardens' Camp of March 4 and 5, 1967, will be remembered for some time to come by the 20 boys and Mr. Dean who spent the two days learning the many differences between winter summer and winter camping.

The boys were buddied off before the camp and allowed to pack an axe, shovel, tarp, bed rolls, food and cooking utensils for each pair. No tents, stoves or heaters were allowed. The equipment was inspected several days before the trip by Mr. Dase, Mr. Berry and Mr. Dean. After the final approval, which was made Friday night, the boys loaded their toboggans and pack-boards.

At 9 a.m. Saturday Mr. Celli, Mr. Petsuk and Mr. Dase were on hand with trucks to haul the equipment to the Bohomolek Ranch where Mr. Berry and Mr. Kerr were waiting to make up sleigh trains pulled by their snow vehicles. By the time Mr. Dean and the boys had walked the 20-minute hike to the camp area most of the gear was on site. The assist was very welcome as some of the toboggans were heavily loaded.

Mr. Berry then pointed out, in general, the possible location for shelter sites, and with recommendations from Mr. Dean and the older boys, the various types of lean-tos and snow huts began to take shape. Each pair of boys was responsible for the construction of some adequate protection for the night which would provide against wind, cold and snow.

Cooking problems also had to be taken care of with snow being the only source of water. The imagination and ingenuity of even the youngest boys was nothing short of inspiring, and before nightfall the above necessities had been adequately taken care of—complete with 6-inch deep bough beds.

The evening started with a rousing sing-song at one of the more isolated shelters and ended with some noisy horse-play about 12:30 a.m. If sleepy eyes read the time correctly.

From this experience we can

The GM plants at Oshawa consumed more electricity in a year than the city of Belleville.

Centennial Walker Passes Through Coleman

Neither sleet, nor snow, nor the cold weather that he met in the Crows Nest Pass appears to have disillusioned Hank Gallant, 24-year-old Canadian, who is walking across Canada as a one-year Centennial project.

Born in Prince Edward Island, the youth has worked in Prince George, B. C., for the past four years and has dreamed of making the sensational hike.

He has hitch-hiked across Canada once and has been across our continent three other times—thus he is fairly familiar with the terrain and weather he expects to face.

The Centennial walker, as he calls himself, left Beacon Hill Park in Victoria at Mile 0 on February 6th and his expected 458-mile hike will take him across the nation to Cape Bona Vista in Newfoundland. He has set no time as for his arrival in Newfoundland.

He averages approximately 20 miles per day walking a casual three miles per hour.

He carries a 40-pound packboard loaded with only the barest essentials.

The hiker's packboard also displays a sign "No rides please—Centennial Walker".

The lad is a folk singer and song writer and expects to do some of this work on his trip. On his arrival in Lethbridge he anticipates taking a few days off to do some work and earn a few dollars before setting out on his long journey.

He pulled a leg muscle on the Hope-Princeton Highway. Unable to get the service of a regular doctor, he was treated by a rancher. With the aid of herbs and liniment the rancher soon had the hiker on his way.

One of the highlights "Hank" reports is being met on the western outskirts of Cranbrook, B. C., where over 40 persons marched into town with the young hiker. He also reports having been met by a husband and wife from Kimberley who gave him hot spaghetti to eat near Cranbrook.

A tinge of excitement could be noted in the young hiker's voice as he reported on the satisfaction he felt when he crossed the Alberta-B. C. border to enter Coleman at around 2 p.m. March 5 as his feat marked his crossing of the first province in his long journey. When he completes his journey through each province he will attach an emblem to his hat to mark his feat.

Mr. Gallant's family live in Prince Edward Island. They do not know that he is walking across Canada. Passing through his native town will be one of the highlights of his year-long trek.

C.N.P. Riding Club To Participate in Pony Express Ride

Using good common "horse sense" is one of the reasons the Centennial Cross Canada Pony Express is riding the southern route to deliver a rawhide scroll bearing greetings from the people of Mexico to the Queen.

The scroll was expressed across the United States to Victoria, B. C., from Mexico and the Cross Canada "Pony Express" will leave Victoria on March 22 and is expected to arrive in Montreal on July 3 when the scroll is to be presented to the Queen.

Details of the exciting cross-Canada ride were explained by Al Legate, forerunner of the biggest trail ride in history, at Coleman's Centennial meeting held this week.

Mr. Legate advised that riding clubs all across Canada were providing horses and riders to provide the links in the cross country chain. The maximum ride will be five miles per rider and a total of 40 miles per day being travelled. If clubs wish to divide the 40 miles per day between club members they can do so—for example, 40 riders—one mile each.

Mr. Legate will follow each club and where necessary will be prepared to ride or use his own horse if no riders or horses are available.

He indicated the Fernie Riding Club will be travelling to Natal, and from there the Natal Club will ride the express to the Alberta-British Columbia border, where the Crows Nest Riding Club will take over and ride to Coleman. The riders will rest overnight and start the next morning.

The local club will continue to ride to Pincher Creek where the Pincher Creek Riding Club will take over.

One of the highlights of each evening's stop will be to stop at city halls where civic dignitaries are expected to be present to take over the scroll and store it in the town safe or with local law enforcement agencies for safe keeping each night.

The mayors of each town will be allowed to write one greeting card on behalf of their own town, expressing good wishes to the Queen and this card will be carried by the Pony Express in saddle bags.

There are certain regulations that must be adhered to for the riders, and each club has been informed of this. Those riders taking part will have their names and addresses recorded and a memento of their participation in the Pony Express ride will be sent to them.

In order to cover expenses of the trip, Mr. Legate informed the meeting that clubs in the various stop-overs are being asked to organize entertainment or celebrations that may be in the form of barbecues, dances or any form of entertainment.

The Crows Nest Pass and Bellevue Riding Club will participate in the ride and will promote some celebration for the overnight stay in Coleman.

Mr. Russell plans to enter the rug in the Chateleine contest.

O.O.R.P. Marks
20th Anniversary

The Coleman Order of the Royal Purple Lodge No. 96, marked its 20th anniversary recently, which function was attended by District Deputy Honored Royal Lady Ruby D'Elchivry of Cranbrook, who paid her official visit.

During the event 20-year membership pins were presented to Lady P. Degroot of Calgary, and Lady E. Bartoletti of Coleman.

A 15-year pin will be sent to Lady Wavrean, now residing in Calgary, who was unable to be present for the event.

On completion of ceremonies a lunch and birthday cake was served by the Social Committee.

OTTAWA STORES LIGHT ON GREETING CARDS
IN FRENCH

Too few Ottawa stores carried an adequate selection of French language Christmas cards, according to a holiday survey by Le Droit, French language daily paper in the capital, as reported in Stationery & Office Products. A reporter found shops on Rideau St., a largely French speaking section, offered a small selection of French language cards but most stores on Sparks and Bank Sts., in the main downtown business district, offered cards only in English. Among stores surveyed, holiday card selection in French ran from 10 to 50 per cent.

Minerva Chapter,
O.E.S., hold party

Minerva Chapter No. 41 O.E.S., held a successful social drive after their regular meeting Thursday evening, March 16, with ten tables in play.

Honors went to: Ladies' first, Mrs. J. Kinnear, sr.; second, Mrs. A. A. Herford; consolation, Mrs. G. Lant. Gent's first, Mrs. Judy Bowman; second, Mrs. P. Jenkins, and consolation, Mrs. E. Wilson.

OF MANY THINGS (By Ambrose Hills)

Promise Of Spring

This morning the sun made a funnel for itself through a heavy skirt of dark clouds, and it streaked across our front meadow, lit up the waters on our pond and brought Greenhorn Farm to life.

I dressed quickly, eager to get outdoors while the fine weather lasted, for here in the Fraser Valley, it can shine one moment and rain the next. I fed little Woolly-bully, who has developed a fabulous appetite for calf-grower, and then threw some grain to our ducks, newly acquired, while Kathy fed our young La Mancha goat, Willy-nilly. Then I took the scythe and wandered down to our middle pasture where there were still some clumps of blackberry bramble to be removed—a thorny, miserable job, but what a wonderful sense of accomplishment to see clear, free pasture where there was rough tangle before.

I promised myself not to do too much at one time, but once started, was carried along from clump to clump, until back and arms were weary. Then I literally tore myself from the task and walked to the flat rock by the creek to do some dreaming about what spring would bring to Greenhorn Farm and what 1967 would bring to Canadians everywhere.

Here the garden is cultivated and ready for seed, the pastures trimmed and freer than before of weeds and bramble, and brush trying to intrude on our meadows has been cut back. Trees are pruned and sprayed. Hundreds of bulbs are waiting to burst forth in the spring sunshine. So we have high hopes of a plentiful harvest of beauty and edibles. There will be difficulties and disappointments too, no doubt, but we should be able to take them in stride as long as daisies dot the meadows and birds sing in our giant cypress trees.

We've now been farming for about six months and haven't made a thin dime materially, but many millions worth in peace of mind and respect for the earth, and things that grow upon it. Farming takes patience, a willingness to invest seed, sweat and hopes, and then wait and wait for the returns.

I hope that in the razzle-dazzle of this Centennial Year, Canadians do not forget that if there are to be big harvests in the years ahead, someone must work, and seed, and hope. Sometimes, it seems to me that we've become a nation greedy for the harvest, but none too eager to do the work that must precede it, or even to reward those willing to do it. But that's a pessimistic note, and I'm sure I'll shake it when spring comes and the bulbs begin to pop through the earth!

New Bird Exhibits Go On Display In National Museum

Recently completed renovations to the National Museum's Bird Hall include a number of bird habitat dioramas, an exhibit of winter feeding stations, a collection of birds with recorded songs which the visitor can listen to, and a highly instructive 3-D display showing the development of a chicken inside the egg.

Areas of Canada represented in the new dioramas range from the Southernmost point of Ontario to the High Rockies. There is an enchanting view of early spring in Point Pelee National Park, considered to be one of the most interesting spots for bird study in North America; and a superb diorama of early summer at the Columbia Icefields, shows a number of alpine birds which inhabit the edge of the timberline.

Another exhibit shows the autumn Hawk migration at Port Stanley, Ontario, where thousands of the woods-dwelling hawks gather each fall; and a fourth shows the spectacular courtship of the Sage Grouse. The scenic backgrounds for these four have been painted by Percy Wilson, one of the foremost diorama artists on the continent.

In the winter feeder display, which includes mounted specimens of Ring-necked Pheasants, Cedar Waxwings, Snow Buntings, Cardinals and many others, all in a fresh fall of snow, the Museum shows how feeding stations can be erected in the family backyard to attract some of the birds which stay with us throughout the winter. This will remain on view during the year and provide a welcome contrast with the summer's heat.

Larger dioramas that make up the Bird Hall include Prairie Waterfowl in Spring, Snow Goose Breeding Colony at Eskimo Point, and Sea Birds of Bonaventure Island.

These attractive displays provide the visitor with a fascinating view of Canadian bird-life. In the near future there will be a number of other additions to the Bird Hall, which will become one of the most interesting exhibitions in the Museum.

Centennial Beard Contest To Embrace C. N. P.

The Centennial beard growing contest that was started in Blaimore recently has been expanded and will now embrace the entire Crow's Nest Pass and anyone with an urge to grow the "face fuzz" should contact Hank Spatuk, Max Brown or Pedro Giacomuzzi at Blaimore.

The hairy ones, now over 60 in number, have formed a club, and members are known as the "Barbed Wire Johnnies".

The name is in memory of the late John Spear (Barb Wire Johnnie) a colorful trapper who used to visit the Pass towns regularly on his trips from the mountains to town to load up with supplies.

A Centennial project to be undertaken by the group will be to rebuild the "Old Cannon Ball Express" that was built by local men to take part in Blaimore's fiftieth anniversary celebrations in 1961.

The unit will be rebuilt by local craftsmen and will be used in promotion of the Pass in various parades and functions.

The Barbed Wire Johnnies have also pledged themselves to clean up river banks around town and to give the "Old Bandstand" a much-needed repair and paint job. To wind up the beard contest a giant dance is to be held on July 1st and a barbecue will be held in conjunction with this event.

During the day-long celebration prizes will be awarded in the beard judging contest for (1) full beard and -moustache, (trimmed); (2) Van Dyke beard; (3) mustache (Long bushy full, sideburns); (4) scruffy or scraggy beard; (5) short fuzz or junior beard; and (6) moustache.

The group is sponsoring a draw with first prize being a $50.00 hamper, second prize 50 Centennial silver dollars, and third prize, 30 Centennial silver dollars, and fourth prize, 20 Centennial silver dollars.

The tickets are 25c each or five for $1, and proceeds are to be used towards building the "Cannonball Express".

The Barb Wire Johnnies intend to stir up much activity in the Pass and invite everyone to get on the route of the Cannonball and make the Centennial celebration one to remember.

For lovers of classical music, Expo 67 offers 23 symphonic groups, eight opera companies and 10 ballet companies. The World Festival of Entertainment has 150 attractions, with international reputations.

The Homemaker

(Miss Patricia L. Peters, District Home Economist, Box 40, Claresholm, Alberta. Phone 563-5342. Cardston, Phone 563-5482. Pincher Creek, Phone 627-8130 or 627-4022.)

Everyone has been wondering lately just how much meat can be expected from the different carcasses.

The Department of Agriculture has a Food Specialist on staff now and she has done some study on this subject. The result is a mimeograph sheet "How Much Meat".

The weight of a dressed carcass can vary widely and will depend on type of animal, its age, its condition, the feed it was getting before slaughtered. The weight also depends on whether the animal had just been fed before it was weighed.

The amount of weight loss will depend upon the grade of animal, the cuts desired, the amount of bone removed and even the individual butcher.

In the case of beef, you can expect a weight loss of 42 to 50 per cent when the animal is dressed out, another 2 to 3 per cent shrinks when the carcass is cooled and a further loss of about 12 per cent when the meat is boned, trimmed and prepared for a freezer.

The dressing out weight loss for pork varies from 22 to 28 per cent loss when meat is cut and trimmed.

The initial weight loss for lamb is between 50 and 55 per cent plus another 5 to 10 per cent loss when meat is cut and trimmed.

Let's use an example of a 900 pound heifer or steer. The carcass will weigh about 540 pounds. This means that a side would weigh about 270 pounds with the front quarter about 140 pounds and the hind quarter about 130 pounds. The take home beef would be about 166 pounds and the bone, fat and trimming make up the rest of the side, or about 85 pounds.

The take home meat from a 50 pound whole lamb carcass would be about 35 pounds. The bone, fat and trimming would weigh about 15 pounds.

The take home meat from a 215 pound live hog would be about 104 pounds; 16 pounds of bones, fat and trimmings.

CNIB Makes Further Grant For Eye Research

Mr. J. A. Weber, Chairman of the Alberta Board of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind, has just announced a further grant of $7,000.00 towards a glaucoma research program being carried on at the Department of Ophthalmology, University of Alberta, Edmonton.

Glaucoma is a leading cause of blindness among adults in this country. Chronic glaucoma is an eye disorder that occurs in one person out of every 50 over 40 years of age. Unfortunately, because the early stages of this disease may not produce disturbing symptoms, many of those affected do not realize that they have an eye disease until it is far advanced. It is more common than diabetes. If glaucoma is neglected, vision is progressively reduced and eventually the person becomes blind. For many years medical men have been striving to overcome and better control this insidious disease. This money, Mr. Weber states, has been made available through the E. A. Baker Foundation for Prevention of Blindness which is affiliated with the National Office of CNIB in Toronto, Ontario.

The Baker Foundation was organized, he stated, in June of 1962 to honor the retirement of Col. E. A. Baker, who for 40 years, directed the affairs of the CNIB across Canada.

During the past two years $23,300.00 has been made available through the E. A. Baker Foundation for eye research programs in the province of Alberta.

The Foundation at the present time, says Mr. Weber, has just over one half million dollars and only the interest on this money is spent each year on research projects and bursaries in ophthalmology. It is hoped that through donations and bequests the Foundation will, before too many years, reach one million dollars so that a minimum of $50,000.00 can be spent each year through the Baker Foundation to help in eye research.

Back To School For Teachers

Teachers of the Crows Nest Pass and Pincher Creek School Divisions met for an institute on Friday, March 10th. All teachers assembled for a general session chaired by Mr. Horace Allen to hear the keynote address by Dr. S. A. Lindstedt. His topic was "Individual Differences". He outlined the place of the individual student in the Alberta educational system and he stressed the need for making provision for individuality in the class room.

Because each student has different levels ability in different subjects, classroom teachers must not only attempt to deal with each student as an individual but also know the student's ability in different subject areas and avoid classifying pupils as good or poor students.

Following Dr. Lindstedt's address the teachers broke up into smaller study groups. Elementary teachers attended lectures in Language and Science conducted by Mr. J. P. McBurney and Mr. H. I. Hastings respectively. Junior and Senior high school teachers were able to attend lectures in Social Studies, English, Mathematics or Science. These sessions were conducted by Miss Evelyn Moore, Dr. Merron Chorny, Dr. S. Lindstedt and Dr. S. Norris. Each lecture was repeated in the afternoon so each teacher was able to attend two different sessions.

Two informal question and discussion periods provided the opportunity for teachers to exchange ideas with the speakers and with one another.

Mr. Hastings and Mr. McBurney are Elementary School consultants with the Department of Education. Dr. Lindstedt, Dr. Chorny, Dr. Norris and Miss Moore are all faculty members at the University of Calgary.

Second Session Saturday
The Pass and Pincher Creek teachers were joined on Saturday by the teachers of the Willow Creek (Fort Macleod) School Division for "Project Commando".

The Commandos are a part of the English Specialist Council of the Alberta Teachers' Association. Project Commando is a special program to provide inservice education for teachers. Teachers in attendance were brought up to date on the latest techniques for effective teaching of English and particularly English composition.

General sessions were chaired by Mr. J. D. McPetridge, A.T.A. public relations officer. Speaker for the general session was Mr. Rod Morrisett, Assistant Dean, Faculty of Arts and Science, University of Calgary. Division I group met to hear Miss Dorothy Balfour of McKee Elementary School, Edmonton. Division II met with Mr. Hugh Broadbent, Principal, Wildwood Elementary School, Calgary; Division III with Dr. Merron Chorny, Association Professor English and Curriculum, University of Calgary; Division IV with Mr. Cy Groves, English teacher, Western Canada High School, Calgary.

Each group discussed the English program at its grade level and the concluding session was a review by each of the speakers as to what was expected in skill development at key points in a pupil's school career.

Letter To The Editor

Edmonton, Alta.,
Feb. 24, 197.

Mr. T. Holstead,
Publisher, The Coleman Journal,
Coleman, Alberta.

Dear Sir:

On behalf of the Directors of the Alberta Tuberculosis Association I wish to extend our sincere thanks to The Coleman Journal for their assistance in publicizing the Christmas Seal Campaign.

We wish to report that returns in the current Christmas Seal Campaign stand at approximately $250,600. This is down slightly from the preceding year, but we are pleased that nearly 105,000 Albertans, not including employee groups have contributed to the campaign.

We are proud of the confidence displayed by the public in our Association. To merit this support we must seek, by every effort in our power, to develop both talent and ability to meet the emerging problems that health measures demand in our society.

We are very grateful.

Yours sincerely,

J. F. Beingsnessner,
Vice-president.
